Quintessential Consulting

Who we are

Naleli Askew,

of Quintessential, like many little girls loved to play dress up and wear her mothers jewelry. It was during college Naleli discovered that jewelry was truly her passion. She has since spent over 15 years in the jewelry industry allowing her to work with clients from the Washington Wizards, government officials, local executives, corporate Vice Presidents and many more with their engagement ring designs, wedding band coordination and just "gotta have it" pieces. Naleli promises to provide a luxurious, fun and personalized experience, nothing less then exceptional service, quality, value and honest guidance.
